

CS506 NAACP Scrum Checkpoint

- What have I worked on?

- So far, we've worked on doing research to understand the datasets that we'll be working with and the problems that we are trying to solve. We've also taken a look at the work that has been done in prior semesters to catch ourselves up to speed.

- What will I be working on next?

- Next, we're planning on continuing our understanding of what's been done before us by looking closer and analyzing the work that's been previously done and the findings / models for doing so. We're also planning on looking at what's been done with a critical lens to see what we can improve upon. We'll be meeting with the client in the next week, and will begin our web scraping process to collect data, as well as a better method of visualizing the data once we collect it and are able to model it.

- Have I run into any issues? Do I need help?

- So far, we haven't run into any specific issues as we've just been getting ourselves caught up on the project and tasks at hand. We are figuring out our meeting logistics currently as well.

- Have I talked to the client recently? When are we meeting with them next?

- We haven't met with the client this past week, but were in contact with them prior to submitting our first deliverable and establishing the scope of the project. We are planning on meeting with them in the next week when we can identify a time frame that will work for everyone.
